Location of meetings: Girls care home institute- Bethlehem

Direct Target Audience: Teenage girls (14-16) years old

Number of participants: 5

Number of meetings: 6

Date: 2.4.2015- 14.5.2015

Goals: supporting girls from juvenile center to return to society as positive leaders

The idea of the initiative:

Girls, between the ages of 14-16, in the Care home for girls institution are considered victims of the crime scene and difficult life circumstances. These girls are considered victims in need of care and not criminals. Regardless of their sentences and cases, we believe it is our duty to educate the girls and give them support through workshops that will help them integrate in the society. Within the efforts of Sawa organization, an organization working to support Women's rights with the goal of fighting violence against women and kids in all forms and shapes, and that cares mainly about children, we seek to support girls between the ages of 14-16 socially in the Care home through educating children in different subjects based on their needs and improving the abilities of supervisors.
